TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[REPORTED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

From Charleston--Desperate Fighting--Our Forces Victorious, &c.

CHARLESTON, July 19.—The bombardment of Battery Wagner, yesterday, was terrific, five Monitors, the Ironsides, seven wooden gunboats and two Yankee land batteries, maintaining a constant fire for 11 hours. At dark the enemy numbering ten regiments, made a determined assault on our works, and after a desperate struggle, lasting till 11 o'clock, were repulsed with heavy loss. Our loss about one hundred killed and wounded. Enemy's loss estimated at 1500. We captured over 200 prisoners, including some black troops, engaged in the assault. All is quiet to-day, and burying dead.

Later From Mississippi—Surrender of Jackson.

MORTON, July 18.—Our army is still slowly falling back. Up to four o'clock yesterday evening no troops except about two thousand cavalry had crossed Pearl river. Our cavalry skirmishing with theirs beyond Brandon. Citizens who came out since the evacuation of Jackson says a flag of truce was sent by the citizens to Grant, formally surrendering the city. Grant assured them that private property would be respected.—Their cavalry came in at eight o'clock and took possession.

Later From Mississippi.

MORTON, July 20.—Gen. Pemberton, Stephenson, Bowen, Barton, Smith, Lee and Cummings and all the field officers captured at Vicksburg have been exchanged. The men have straggled all over the country. Gen. Bowen is lying dangerously ill at Clinton, unable to be brought to our lines. Gen. Jackson's cavalry has just returned from the rear of Grant's army, having captured and destroyed a train of one hundred commissary wagons. He reports the enemy's force at Canton. Enemy crossed the River with a heavy force on yesterday and are moving on us steadily.

Raid on East Tennessee and Va. Railroad.

We learn that there was a raid on the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad at Wytheville on Sunday, and that the town was burnt. The rumor lacks confirmation, but we have cause to believe it.

ARRIVAL OF PRISONERS.—Ninety-nine prisoners of war reached the city yesterday from Charleston, S. C. They were captured on Morris, Folly and Tybee Islands, but the most of them fell into our hands in the recent assault on the batteries on the former island. No commissioned officers were among them, they being retained at Charleston. The prisoners belonged to the Ninth Maine, Seventh Connecticut, and Seventy-sixth Pennsylvania regiments, and were dressed in uniform very similar to the Confederate grey. We heard no explanation of this circumstance. Nine prisoners of the Ninth Kentucky (Yankee) cavalry were received from Burkville, Kentucky. The Gettysburg prisoners have reached Staunton.—Richmond Examiner.

Duplin County, May 25, 1863.—EDITOR OF THE PROGRESS, RALEIGH, N. C.—No wish to add or stir party feelings, but as some friend has suggested sometime since the name of Wm. J. Houston, Esq., as a suitable person to be voted for for Congress in the district now represented by the Hon. Owen R. Kenan, and as one man should have the same privileges as another, I suggest the name of THOMAS I. FAISON as a suitable person to represent the 3rd Congressional District at the ensuing election. No better or more loyal man than Thomaf I Faison, no private man has done more for the Confederacy and the soldiers. Three of his sons have devoted their time and talents in the cause of freedom, and one of them has sealed it with his blood.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. IV. RALEIGH, TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1863. NO. 216.

To the Voters of the Fifth Congressional District.—The emergency calls for the purest and ablest men to serve the country in her Legislative Councils. The well known character of Captain JOSEPH J. DAVIS, of Franklin, for patriotism, integrity and wisdom, plainly indicates him as the fittest man in the District to represent us in the next Congress. Captain Davis is now leading his gallant company against the invaders of his country, and does not even dream of his friends entertaining the idea of voting for him for Congress or any other civic position, at this time; but we are confident that he will skrink from no responsibility to which his fellow citizens may call him. Well known and universally respected as he is, Franklin County offers her noble son to the voters of the District in full confidence of his election, on account of his own unpretending merit, and for the good of the country. Patriots, your suffrages are asked for a wise and prudent statesman, and gallant soldier.

DESIRABLE INVESTMENT IN TEXAS LANDS.

ONE-HALF OF THE

JUSTO LIENDO TRACT.

THIS TRACT OF DESIRABLE LANDS, WAS SElected for his home site many years since, by Col. M. B. Menard, who was an extensive land owner in Texas, and one of the leading founders of the city of Galveston. The property has never passed out of his family, since its purchase by him, and one-half of it only is now offered for sale for a change of investment, and will be sold in parcels of one-fourth of a league, or 1,100 acres each.

It is situated in Milan county, within the

TEMPERATE AND SHOWERY BELT OF TEXAS,

about 45 miles North-Eastward from the Capital of the State, and about 55 miles Northwestwardly from Brenham, the present terminus of Railroad communication with Galveston and Houston.

The tract is divided in two nearly equal parts by Brushy Creek, (emptying into San Gabriel river,) and comprises an admirable combination of lands for agricultural and pastoral purposits. High and dry post oak lands, filled with fencing materials;

ROLLING PRAIRIE, WITH

BEAUTILUL BUILDING SITES

commanding a view of the entire tract;

RICH TIMBERED BOTTOM

on both sides of the Creek, rising from there to a fine prairie covered with mesquite grass (not the bearded)

UNSURPASSED FOR GRAZING PURPOSES,

and which extends uninterruptedly to the banks of the San Gabriel, from 12 to 15 miles distant.

This region of country is not surpassed by any in Texas, in

REGULARITY OF SEASONS,

DELIGHTFUL CLIMATE AND

HEALTH OF THE LOCALITY;

and the tract itself forms one of the best investments for present use or future profit to be found in Texas,

THE LAND OF PROMISE AND OF PEACE.

During the dry year of 1860 in Texas, Mr. Conolly's farm, (on a portion of the tract,) yielded an average of 50 bushels of corn, and 15 bushels of wheat to the acre. There are numerous flouring mills in Milan, and the adjoining counties of Bell and Williamson.

All the small grains grow well, cotton yields one bale to the acre, horses, mules, sheep, hogs and and are largely raised throughout the region. The titles to the land have never been questioned, and are unquestionable, and there are no squatters on it. The settled portion of the State extends far beyond Milan county, in every direction.

The property now belongs to J. S. Thrasher, Superintendant of the Press Association, and one-half of it is offered for sale, only because the acceptance of the duties of his public position involves the necessity of a partial change in his investments.

It is offered at private sale until the 7th day of August, when if not disposed of, it will be sold at public auction, without reserve, for cash, in Confederate Treasury notes in the city of Atlanta.

For further information, and plan of tract apply to

The War.

The struggle is not quite so fierce as it was a couple of weeks ago, but the war has lost none of its tragic interest. Gen. Lee, if not now pressed by Meade in Virginia, has been forced out of Maryland, and is now with his army in the lower valley. Whether the enemy have crossed the Potomac into Virginia we are not positively informed, but if Meade feels that he has the strength he will press forward and compel Lee to fall back upon Richmond, and the enemy may, in immense force, be rattling at the very gates of the Confederate Capitol in the next thirty or sixty days. Certainly the prospect in Virginia is not very promising, but we must fill up our ranks and exert ourselves to keep them back.

From Tennessee we have nothing later than what has already been published. The report that Bragg had fallen back is only intended to be sensational.—Bragg's headquarters are at Chattanooga and his army encamped in that vicinity.

In Mississippi Johnston is retreating before Grant, the capitol of the State is occupied by the enemy's forces, and we fear Johnston, for want of a sufficient force to contend with Grant, will have to retire from the State, at least temporarily. We make this statement because such seems to us to be the inevitable result of the movements going on there, and that the people may not be disappointed when made fully acquainted with the facts of Johnston's retrogade movement. No sane man expects Johnston to maintain his position near Jackson, with only about one third the number of men that confront him.

At Charleston events of tragic interest are transpiring, and the foundation is being laid, we fear, for the fall of that place, for if it is to be a game of digging and engineering it must prove, eventually, another Vicksburg.

Meantime, while all these things are going on, an advance is reported on the W. & W. Railroad in the neighborhood of Wilson, and the excitement all along that line, and even up here, is considerable.

If anybody can extract sunshine from the impenetrable gloom that surrounds us it is more than we can do. The reported advance this way will probably cause another meeting at the Court House, and another enrolling of names, but nothing more.—We have no idea that the next two weeks will do any more in perfecting organization for the defense of the capitol than has been done in the last two weeks. We deem it to be our duty, however, to sound the alarm and tell the people that the Yankees are said to be advancing this way.

Greene County.

We are no politician and the Progress is not a political paper. We have no claims on any party and no party has any claims on us, but we publish the proceedings of a meeting held in Greene because the people have a right to be heard and because they are and have been for several years our patrons and friends. The Resolutions express the sentiments of the meeting and not ours, but still we do not hesitate to assert that we heartily approve most of them.

The meeting, in view of injustice to North Carolina by the General Government, protests against furnishing the seven thousand men called for by the President until other States have furnished their full quotas. We do not approve this resolution and regret that the meeting should have passed it. North Carolina left the old Union voluntarily and embarked in the pending struggle of her own free will and accord, and as long as the war continues we would have the State do her duty, regardless of government wrong, official insolence, or anything else. We are in a life and death struggle, from which we cannot retire if we would, and if we refuse to raise troops for the protection of the people and property of the State we shall certainly be overrun and ruined. We are decidedly in favor of raising a permanent force for home defence, and clearly think that exempts, foreigners and those who have furnished substitutes, which classes form the bulk of the muscle left behind, should be compelled to serve. The fact is the whole country is in danger of being overrun, and no neighborhood or community is safe, and we must put every man physically able to handle an arm upon a war footing and organize for the protection of our firesides against a ruthless and brutal enemy, or submit to such terms as they choose to award us. We think a force of from five to seven thousand men could be easily raised from those who have bought out and skulked out, thus far, and under a gallant, trusty, vigilant officer they could be made to keep the enemy confined to their camps and the property and homes of our citizens thus be protected, and such a force should be at once raised, for we must defend ourselves or be ruined.

We heartily agree with our Greene county friends in their protests and denunciations of the injustice done us in the appointment of men from other States to command our troops and collect taxes from our people, and we hope the people throughout the State will speak out against such injustice, with the hope that a united protest may be the means of inducing those who rule at Richmond to change their course towards us.

The Mob Spirit at the North.

Serious as was the mob which raged in New York city last week, we shall expect soon to hear that the government has put it down, and that ultimately, the conscription will go on; but the great upheaving in that great Metropolis and neighboring towns and cities has developed a spirit of resistance and dissatisfaction that no power of the government can put down.—Opposition to the draft was the immediate but not the only cause of the outbreak. The people—the poor laboring men who compose the great masses in all countries—are tired of the war, and despise and abhor the usupers that are carrying it on. Lincoln and Seward may quell the disaffected in New York for a time, but the spirit of resistance will break through again, and will spread itself through the entire North, until the very foundations of the government at Washington will be shaken; and the day may come, and we hope will, when the wretches who tyranize over the people of the North will have to fly the country to save their necks from the fury of the enraged populace.

People who were born free and who have lived under free institutions will not yield to a military despotism without a struggle, and Lincoln & Co. had better look out. They may smother the troubles in New York but they will break forth again with tenfold fury.

WILL THEY BE HUNG.—In the desperate fight on Morris Island, on Friday, we captured two hundred prisoners, among them some negro soldiers. Now will the threat to hang negroes caught in arms be carried out, or will the power that made the threat back down as heretofore? If our own slaves, taken in arms against us, are to be treated as prisoners of war by the Confederate Government, we had better give up the contest at once and so end the farce.

Another Raid.

It became generally known yesterday, that another raiding party was moving against the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, from Newbern or Washington, and many extravagant rumors were put in circulation. From parties directly from below we learn that a cavalry force supposed to number some 500, accompanied by artillery, made their appearance at Black Jack church seven or eight miles below Greenville on Sunday, at about 3 o'clock, and that they were advancing on Greenville. Parties from Kinston yesterday morning also report that intelligence of the advance had reached that place, and steps were to be taken to arrest the movement. We trust a little more activity will prevail than on the occasion of the Warsaw raid, and that as many of our men will not be found asleep as on that occasion.

THE ROAD REACHED—BRIDGE DESTROYED, &c.

After writing the above the following dispatch was received at the Executive office:

GOLDSBORO, July 20.—Gov. Vance: A dispatch from Lt. Col. Pool, at Wilson, just received, says the enemy occupied Rocky Mount at half past eight o'clock this morning, and are reported as advancing on Wilson. He says he learns the enemy destroyed Tar river Bridge and burned several buildings at Rocky Mount.

[Signed] J. A. J. BRADFORD, Col. Comd'g.

Whether they intend to visit Raleigh this time or not we cannot say, but we advise that instant preparation be made to meet them in case they should come. Our impression is that their force is small and that their only object is to destroy the road and wires, and steal horses and negroes and destroy property.

More of the Yankee Raid.

We have been favored with the following private dispatch, received here yesterday:

GOLDSBORO, July 20.—Yankees on another cavalry raid. Said to have burnt Battle's Cotton Factory, and the Railroad Warehouse at Rocky Mount and the Railroad bridge over Tar river, and said to be now advancing on Wilson. Their number not known.

LATER.

A dispatch was received here last night from Col. Bradford, stating that he had received a dispatch from Col. Pool, at Wilson, that his scouts reported the enemy returning in the direction of Tarboro. Besides the damage done at Rocky Mount in the destruction of property by fire they destroyed an ordnance train on the road. We suppose they have accomplished their purpose and will return to Newbern or Washington, probably giving Tarboro a passing call.

Rally for Home Defence.

Would it not be well to ring the Court House bell and enroll the citizens again this morning? True they were enrolled a couple of weeks ago, but these preparations ended, and as the Yankees are advancing, we suggest there be another enrollment.

Seriously, can we not raise and organize, at once, a volunteer battalion for home defence? There is enough of men idling about the streets in this city to repel such a force as sacked Rocky Mount yesterday, could they be organized and drilled for the emergency. We tell the citizens of Raleigh that they are in imminent danger and there is no time to lose. Organize and organize now. The best fortifications in the world are bayonets in the hands of brave men. Ditching will not save us, but a vigilant home organization may.

FROM THE SIXTH N. C. TROOPS.

We have been kindly permitted to publish the following letter from an officer in the 6th:

BIVOUAC 6TH N. C. REGT,
1 mile N. E. Hagerstown, Md.,
July 9th, 1863.

DEAR FATHER: I wrote you from near Fayetteville, or Greenwood, Pa., and will suppose you have received it.

We left that place, as I wrote you we would, early on the morning of about the 25th ult., burning, before we left, Thadeus Stephens' great Iron works; crossing the Blue Ridge, passing Hunterstown and Berlin, we then went to York, a town of some 15,000 inhabitants, and where the Yankees have established a large Hospital. We arrived there on Sunday and remained till Tuesday morning, destroyed some cars and ware houses, and burned the Railroad and County bridges across the Susquehannah at Columbia, and captured a few prisoners, and while we were there Rodes and Johnston were operating at Carlisle and Harrisburg. On Tuesday at daylight we moved again, making a forced march to near Hampton, again passing through Berlin, and there making a junction with Rodes and Johnson. The next morning, Wednesday, 1st inst., we moved to Gettysburg, where the enemy were in force. About 4 that evening, having the lines arranged, we were let on them. Our Division driving them through the place and capturing a great number of prisoners, and some artillery. I passed nearly around the left of one of their regiments, before it broke, heading a whole garden full of them and making them ground arms and go to the rear. In a few steps of me, with the Yankees all around, I noticed one old scoundrel working his best to get his gun capped to shoot me. I sprung to him and caught his gun, telling him to surrender, at the same time raising my sword to strike him, and was just in the act of doing so when he let go his piece and held up his hands for mercy. I let him go, but Capt. Smith, who was near enough to see it all, says I ought to have killed him. There was a fellow that had two flags who I then made for, but he was too fleet and took them off. We then formed in the town and advanced in line through the place to near a long range of heights upon which they had been driven back to, when night put an end to the contest for that day.—That night they fortified themselves very strongly.

The next day, 2d inst., we lay under their picket firing and cannonading all day till a little after sundown, when we charged their fortifications and under the most severe fire of cannister, grape and musketry I ever witnessed in my life, we got all among them and their cannon and silenced some 20 pieces, after bayoneting them and beating them down with the buts of our guns and swords; and to give you some idea of the scene, there is no picture I have ever seen of troops mixing that is too much colored to be a fair representation of it. We, nevertheless, held on till they brought a very heavy column to their support and we saw they were about to get the last one of us prisoners, when we fell back to the lines we had held during the day, where we remained all that day and night, when we fell back to the lines we had before any fighting commenced, where we remained till about 2 o'clock that night, and then we took up the line of retreat to this place; our division covering the retreat and coming quite near to having another fight at Fairfield, being shelled considerably, and going into line of battle there, being only the enemy's cavalry, I suppose. The dext morning we moved again, leaving Johnston to bring up the rear, passing through Munchun Gap to Waynesboro, Pa. The next morning we moved again, coming to this point.

We have had a great deal of rain. Our wagons have been at the river at Williamsport for several days, and I learn the river is very much swollen and our wagons are crossing slowly, and the enemy's cavalry made a raid on them before we got back, but it did not amount to any considerable damage, except the burning of our pontoon bridge there.

Our loss was quite severe in the recent battles.—Our regiment is almost reduced to half its number. The loss in our company was as follows:

Killed—Corpl J C Castlebury and private James M Williams. Wounded—Sergt W J French, through arm; Corpl G T Berns, through leg; Corpl J H Upchurch, on breast; private Anderson Johnson, in the breast; Saml Williams, through thigh; E Herndon, through thigh and on the foot; E Chapell, through wrist; John Roberts, on breast; Wm Lawrence, on side; James Young, on the shoulder; M T Castlebery, in groin; Corpl J L Andrews, on arm and hand, and myself on the foot, which caused it to be swollen very much for several days, but lost no duty from it. It is now nearly well. Our company behaved very well, and I cannot say too much of the two who are no more. The first, J C Castlebury, had won for himself a most enviable reputation as a scout, and if any man was ever brave to a fault I am sure he deserved the title. He was killed instantly, near a rock wall which was a part of their fortifications, and his body was not buried or taken off the field. The second, Jas. M. Williams, better known as Jim Brown, had, by his wit and being of a delicate constitution, become the pet of not only the company but the regiment, and of course is much missed. His body was mangled by a cannon shot but did not die till late that night, and then like a true soldier, sending an affecting message to his mother and saying it was a just cause and declaring himself perfectly resigned to his fate. I should not fail to say that E. Parrish, L. Holder, M. T. Horton, S. Suter, Wm. Pickard and T. J. Forest are missing, and we are quite certain are prisoners. Private Joseph Norris was left in the enemy's lines as nurse to our wounded. E. Herndon, Corporal J. L. Andrews and W. H. Winfrey had to be left for lack of transportation, making our entire loss up to now twenty-one. Everything appears quite quiet this morning.

Your affectionate son,
WYATT.

Public Meeting in Greene County.

At a meeting of the Conservative Party of Greene County, held at Snow Hill, on Tuesday the 14th instant,

On motion of Wm. P. Grimsley, John B. Williams was called to the Chair, and John Harvey appointed Secretary.

The Chairman, in a few appropriate remarks, having stated the object of the meeting,

On motion of Dr. Jones, R. J. Williams, Bennett Faircloth, Joseph Dixon and Wm. P. Grimsley were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the same, who reported through their Chairman the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, viz:

WHEREAS, The time has arrived when the people of North Carolina should guard, with jealous care, their rights and their liberties, and look with an eye single to their own interest, we deem it our duty as freemen of North Carolina, to meet in public council to express our views in regard to the policy the Confederate Government has thought proper to pursue towards North Carolina, and take a position upholding and defending the liberties of the people of the State, pledging our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor in her defence, whether against kings abroad or tyrants at homes. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the course of the Confederate Government towards North Carolina from the beginning of the war has been anything but fair and honorable, and that let her blood flow ever so freely, not a word is said, or charitable act done to honor the valor or patriotism of her sons.

Resolved, That notwithstanding North Carolina has furnished more men in proportion to her inhabitants than any other State to prosecute this war, she has fewer Brigadier or Major Generals to command them than any other State; of the injustice of which, the people have long complained, but as yet their complaints have been utterly disregarded.

Resolved, That while North Carolina has able and skillful physicians and officers competent to perform the duties assigned them, the Confederate Government has sent to this State physicians and officers from Richmond to examine and enroll her conscripts, thereby treating with contempt the intelligence of the State.

Resolved, That the appointment of one Bradford, (a Virginian) Chief Tithingman for North Barolina, is an insult to the State, and that we demand his removal, and that some North Carolinian be appointed in his stead.

Resolved, That North Carolinians are capable of performing any duties assigned them by the Confederate Government, and we protest against the practice of appointing men from other States to perform duties within her borders, which her own sons can do as well.

Resolved, That the Davis administration having called upon the Governor for seven thousand militia, we deem it unjust to the best interests of the State that any more troops be furnished until other States have furnished their just quota of men.

Resolved, That in view of the bad treatment this State has received at the hands of the Confederate Government, and the insults constantly heaped upon her, we deem it the duty of all North Carolinians to demand their discontinuance, or we shall, in self-defence, be compelled to take a position where we can take care of ourselves; and we call upon the people of North Carolina to hold meetings in their respective Counties and declare whether they shall be freemen or slaves.

Resolved, That in our opinion, W. W. Holden is one of the ablest and boldest defenders of the rights of the people in the State, and that the stand which he has taken in their defence, is a just cause of pride to every true North Carolinian, and that we recommend the Standard, under his control to every lover of freedom, and to all those who hate tyranny and oppression.

Resolved, That these proceedings be published in the Standard and Progress.

JOHN B. WILLIAMS, Chm'n.
JOHN HARVEY, Secretary.
July 15, 1863.

SOMEBODY CENSURED.—The following letter, which appears in the Wilmington Journal, is rather severe on somebody. It is certainly humiliating if not disgraceful that a thieving party of four or five hundred men should be suffered to penetrate the country 60 to 70 miles from their camp, tear up the railroad, destroy property, bag a whole company and have things generally their own way, with no one to make them afraid, while we had a force near by sufficiently large to have put them to flight or taken the whole party. We do not hesitate to say that we need a dashing, courageous, energetic officer at the head of our troops in Eastern Carolina, and such an one we trust will be given us at once. Here is the letter:

CAMP NEAR KINSTON, N. C.
July 13th, 1863.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—How is it that the Abolitionists, with five or six hundred men, are allowed to make raids through Eastern Carolina as far west as the Wilmington and Weldon railroad, without receiving any check, or no demonstration whatever having been made to impede their progress, especially from this point. It surely must be a want of efficiency in the Commanding General, or a want of that untiring and unceasing activity, which marked the course of Gen. D. H. Hill while in command here. There was a force (sufficient to have captured the entire raiding party,) sent out seven miles from Kinston, on the Wilmington road, and then ordered back, while there was force enough left at Kinston to repulse any force that might have come that way. The same party was sent on Monday some seventeen miles below, and for no good whatever. Maj. Nethercutt asked permission to go on and intercept them before they got back to their lines, which he could have done, as subsequent events proved, with the force that he was guide for, but it was refused him. It is far from my wishes to tarnish the reputation of any man, but when our noble old State is overrun by a few hundred thieving Yankees, and her noble and brave sons are not allowed to intercept their retreat, then I think it is time for some one to speak. It is not cowardice in the N. C. privates that they continue to devastate our soil, but it is because they are not permitted to attack them.

We have force enough here to capture or demolish any such squad, and the troops wish to do it. When we heard of their passing through the fertile counties of Onslow and Duplin, tearing up and pillaging their route, while the officials were quietly taking their ease, we confess a blush of shame mantled our cheek. Generals Hill, Daniel, Kempler and Colquitt, kept the enemy within their confines at Newbern, but now they are permitted to run at large. I am actuated by no mean spirit of revenge, Mr. Editor, that I indite this article, but only in justification of the privates who are willing and ready to meet them whenever they invade, and to shed their last drops of blood if necessary in defence of the "Good Old North State."

AN EYE WITNESS.

TO BE TESTED.—In the summer of 1862, a writ of habeas corpus was applied for to bring the Police Commissioners of Baltimore confined at that time in Fort Layfayette by order of the Government, before Judge Garrison, of the County Court of Kings county, New York. Sheriff Campbell attempted to execute the writ, but, being met by armed men at Fort Hamilton, was unable to do so, and made a return to that effect. The matter rested until recently, when counsel for the Commissioners applied for an alias attachment in the arrest of Colonel Martin Burke, commandant of the fortifications at the Narrows, and which has been granted by Judge Garrison. The writ has been placed in the hands of the Sheriff; but no return had been made at last accounts from the North.

WRITTEN BY REQUEST—BY UNUS.

Scarce was the sound of the war tocsin heard,
Or the cause of the South proclaimed,
Ere he rushed with determined energy
To stand with the brave, or fall with the slain.
Quickly he laid his text books aside
And donned the habiliments of the soldier brave—
With a hero's arm and Spartan's pride
He raised the sword our liberty to save.

With a sincere heart and devoted love
He bid a last farewell to all that was near—
Ever trusting in Him who rules above,
He lead the gallant charge, undaunted by fear.
'Mong the first to respond to his country's call
For gallant men to aid in the bloody strife.
'Mong the first to bravely fall,
He sacrificed his noble and generous life.

Pierced by the deadly missile he fell, far, far away
From his cherished home, and loved ones most dear;
No benign mother was there his untold suffering to allay,
Nor loving father near, in his last moments to cheer,
No sister's hand to gently raise his head
And wipe the cold damp from his pallid cheeks;
But there, surrounded by the dying and the dead,
He breathed his last 'mid melancholly shrieks.

Though taken away in the very bloom of age
When the brightest promises on his countenance played,
Yet recorded on memory's silvery page,
That chivalrous form shall never fade.
The prayers of the worthiest breathe his name,
Mourning his loss and guarding his fame,
And the truest homage the dead can have
Is rendered up at the soldier's grave.

His suavity of manners and pious devotions,
While mingling in the circles of social mirth,
Kindled in many bosoms the fondest emotions,
Looking to his future and excellent worth.
In camp he wore a cheerful smile,
Ever encouraging the desponding one;
On the march he shortened the tedious mile,
But alas he fell where his glory had only begun!

Though vacant the place he was wont to fill,
In the golden chain of domestic love;—
He's gone where wind and sleet can never chill,
To shining courts of bliss above.
Not a sigh should move the "gentle breast,"
Since that lovely form is gone
To brighter realms of eternal rest,
Where wars and griefs are never known.

STATE EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The next annual meeting of the State Educational Association of North Carolina, will be held in Lexington—the session to commence at eight o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, the 18th day of August next.

This annual meeting is called at an earlier day in the year than usual, in order that it may precede the meeting of the National Educational Association to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, in the month of September; and it is to be hoped that the members of the body will consider it a duty to attend, if possible.

The Association has, by the blessings of Providence, been kept alive during this trying crisis, and has been made a means of great good to the State, and through its agency teachers and friends of education can do much for the independence and prosperity of the country.

This class of persons should set an example of unfaltering efforts in behalf of moral progress; and the accumulation of trials and difficulties should only stir them up to nobler strivings.

The delegates to the Association will be carried by the Railroads at half the usual fare, and will be entertained by the people of Lexington free of charge.
